

Martha Stewart Show / Winter Paw Care

Pawz Dog Boots

Winter may be months away, but it's never too early to prepare for snowy conditions that can wear on the paws of our four-legged friends. Follow these simple tips to ensure your dog's paws stay healthy despite the cold weather.

Invest in Protective Footwear

The salt and ice-melting chemicals used to maintain city sidewalks can irritate the pads of your dog's feet. Protect them with a pair of winter dog shoes, such as Pawz Dog Boots. Like a sock, these boots should move with your dog, allowing full paw motion while protecting your dog's feet from the elements.

Use Pet-Friendly Products

Use a salt-free, non-toxic snow-melting product, like Safe Paw Ice Melter, on your lawn and any concrete surfaces to remove snow and ice from your pet's path without spreading around dangerous chemicals.