By Laura Oppenheimer

1. Epi-Pet Sun Protector Spray

($17) Epi-Pet.com

When out at the beach or the park, protect Fido's skin from harmful rays with this easy-to-apply spray-on sun protector.

2. Pet Pilot

($175) MidnightPass.com/petpilot

Getting from point A to point B with a doggie in tow has never been easier than with the Pet Pilot, a transporter that fits under most airline seats and works as both a suitcase with wheels and backpack.

3. Pet Night Light

($20) PetNightLight.com

When Whiskers and Bowser can't go on vacation with you, they can still light up your life with a custom night light. Simply submit your pet's pic on the website, and in a few days, a night light sporting Whiskers' adorable mug will show up in your mailbox.

4. Medibag 4 Petz

($22) Me4Kidz.com

Don't leave home without it. This compact kit contains more than 50 items to help you be prepared to handle any first-aid situation you and your pet encounter on your travels (or in the backyard!).

5. Wander Bowl

($15) Kurgo.com

Made from durable seat-belt material, Wander Bowl is an easily collapsible portable water bowl, making it a cinch to stop and give Fido a drink when you're on the go.

6. Dirty & Hairy's Repel Spray

($9) DirtyAndHairy.com

Say sayonara to bugs and fleas with this all-natural, citronella-based spray. Not only does it protect your pooch from bug bites, but it also neutralizes nasty odors.

7. Pawz

($12-16) PawzDogBoots.com

Salt, sand, and hot pavement are just a few of the irritants that can make a pooch's paws hurt when he's on the go. Protect his feet with Pawz, disposable, rubber booties that fit snugly without any zippers or straps.
